Members present: Appleby, Bush, Donovan, Fox, Kristansen, Sauers, CEO Zamstorff, Trustee Hannan, Historic Preservation Board Chair Bill Andrews, Guest Jason Haremza

Topics covered:

- Zoning enforcement includes many levels of surveillance.
- Decision-making regarding land use in particular neighborhoods, especially decisions made to encourage economic development are made by the planning and zoning department
- Historic buildings and how they fit into Rochester's zoning – city has embraced historic building forms in neighborhoods that have many older buildings, requiring improvements to meet period constructions trends and new buildings to blend in.
- Mixed use development allowed and encouraged in Rochester – what that accomplishes for the city is vibrancy and increasing values. Examples include the new planned development at Mt. Hope and Elmwood Avenues that focuses on the University of Rochester.

Meeting adjourned 7:00
